The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 11-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hesselbom 6014313 and applicant's admitted prior art.

Hesselbom discloses in figure 1, for example, first and second semiconductor stacks on a support plate 19 (and optionally 7) wherein each chip (3,3') and thermal element 15 can be chosen according to desired circuit configurations and wherein chips 3 and 3' develop different amounts of heat, or have different power requirements (col.10, lines 60-67). The chips can communicate between planes as well as between stacks through radiating layers 1 (col.4, lines 1-3). Plates 1 are optionally formed of a material having high thermal conductivity (col.11, lines 1-5). An IC is formed between the stacks (fig.1).

Hesselbom does not disclose specific circuit configurations for the stacks. Applicant admits formation of bridge circuits employing 4 semiconductor chips to have been known prior to applicant's invention (instant pages 1-2). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to combine the known teachings with those of Hesselbom to enable formation of the bridge circuit of the prior art according to the teachings of Hesselbom that chips forming a circuit can be employed as discussed above and further to obtain the cooling benefits disclosed by Hesselbom when using IC's producing larger amounts of heat.

With respect to the recitation of claim 11 that certain elements are capable of being turned on and off together or alternately switched, the device made obvious as discussed above would have such a capability. It is noted that the claim is directed to a method of making a device and not a method of using the device.

With respect to the recitation of claim 15, applicant is directed to radiating layers 1 as stated above.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to George Fourson whose telephone number is (571)272-1860/272-1860. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday.
